

GREETINGS FROM THE ORGANIZERS

It is our pleasure to present the 11th AFMBioMed conference 2025 that will take place in Barcelona, in the Historic Building of the University of Barcelona, on April 8th-11th, 2025. The event includes for the first time a satellite workshop on April 8th, 2025, that focuses on “Standardization of AFM data”.

The meeting is chair by Marina Ines Giannotti from Institut de Bioenginyeria de Catalunya (IBEC), CIBER-BBN and Universitat de Barcelona (UB).

This conference is a back to the future from the first AFMBioMed conference that was organized in Barcelona in 2007, with Prof. Daniel Navajas chairing the event. The purpose of the AFMBioMed Conference remains the same, dedicated to life sciences and nanomedicine applications, and will explore how Atomic Force Microscopy (AFM) solves relevant biological bottlenecks and provides innovative solutions for healthcare.

The AFMBioMed conferences are supported by the International AFMBioMed Conference Association (IACA), a French non-profit organization. The primary objective of IACA is to provide an affordable forum for all scientists, especially early stage researchers. Sponsoring the event is the best way to reach a lower registration fee and allow the participation of the largest community of young scientists. This document describes the different possibility offered to industry partners, note that variations from the listed packages are always possible.

For the organizing committee Barcelona 2025.
